Ed Ford Found

Edgar Ford, shortstop for Richmond for 2 games in 1884, has been found by Peter Morris. The key to the search was Peter finding a letter that E. L. Ford wrote to Harry Wright in February 1884. In the letter, Ford mentions that he will turn 22 on April 10. That puts his date of birth at April 10, 1862. Peter traced an Edgar L. Ford living in Richmond into the 1930s. I have a contact in Richmond that can obtain Virginia death certificates. I wrote her and she sent me the death certificate for the man Peter had been tracing. The death certificate listed his birth as April 10, 1862. He died June 8, 1931. Obviously, this is our man and he wins Peter the Find of the Month award.

Michael O'Rourke

How about a doubleheader in Richmond? No, we didn't find a two-headed player, but we did find Michael O'Rourke, pitcher with Baltimore in 1890. Research by Reed Howard, Joe Simenic, and Richard Malatzky pointed to O'Rourke being from Richmond. Richard found listings in the city directory for a Michael O'Rourke, ballplayer, in the 1890s. He traced this man with his family in Richmond through 1930. I again contacted my Richmond source and she sent me the death certificate for this man, who died March 3, 1934 in Richmond. His family matched the man Richard traced and hence, he is our ballplayer.

Errata

Last month's newsletter should have shown William Carroll Black dying October 2, 2005 rather than October 2, 1952. I think I typed that on Halloween.

New Information

You will notice a veritable plethora of new information, mainly involving middle names and birth date corrections. The bulk of this came from WWI draft registration cards which are now online at Ancestry. These were cards filled out by men who were born between 1872 and 1900 so we were able to find quite a few corrections. Thanks to Peter Morris and Richard Malatzky who did most of the work on this.

Oldest Living Player For Each Team

Since I list the nonagenarians each month, I thought it would be interesting to list the oldest living player for each present and former major league team. I'd hate to see any of you stuck for an answer should anyone ask you this.

Harry Wilson

Harry Wilson caught one game for the Baltimore Orioles in 1898. We currently list him as Henry C. Wilson, born April 8, 1877 in Baltimore. We really don't know who this guy is. Notes from Sporting Life say that Ted Sullivan signed outfielder Harry Wilson of Johns Hopkins University in April, 1898. It is unknown for what team. In May of 1900, Sporting Life reported that Bristol signed Harry C. Wilson of Baltimore as outfielder and change catcher. The 1900 Connecticut census shows Harry C. Wilson, ballplayer, born April 1877 in Baltimore, living in Bristol.

The Johns Hopkins player is Henry Merryman Wilson, born December 29, 1875, Frederick County, Maryland and died December 9, 1956 in Wake County, North Carolina. There was also a Harry Clayton Wilson born January 1, 1876 in Baltimore. This may be a different guy than the Bristol player. So we have several candidates. We just need to find some concrete evidence on who is the 1898 major leaguer. This is our Mystery of the Month.
